

Barcelona Zoo

Forum Building. Barcelona, Spain

For the transformation of the Barcelona Zoo into two locations -the already familiar Zoo de la Ciudadela and the new Zoo Marino- ACCIONA Producciones y Diseño has designed and executed a temporary exhibition in the new Museum of Natural History of Barcelona with headquarters in the Forum building in the fairground of the Forum de las Culturas.

The exhibition shows the visitor the strong historical link of the Barcelona Zoo with the people of Barcelona over more than a century, as well as its role within the worldwide network of zoological parks as protectors of biodiversity.

This educational space is made up of two gigantic blackboards with drawings and annotations helped by beautiful images and two large scale models of the Zoo de la Ciudadela and the new Zoo Marino that show the Barcelona Zoo as an ally of biodiversity.

The tour culminates in a magical kaleidoscopic space: a room of mirrors with projections from the ceiling in which the visitor is entertainingly submerged into the city of Barcelona and the animal habitats of the world.

Date:
2011

Client:
ACCIONA Urban and Environmental Services

Surface area:
150 m²

Services:
Design, technical development
and museographic execution

